Pledge-To raise awareness about the importance of water conservation and encourage students to adopt water-saving habits in their daily lives “Water Saving Pledge” activity has been conducted. Students were asked to repeat the pledge after the teacher, ensuring they understand the meaning and importance of each line.

CLEAN AND MUDDY WATER

Pure water = Pure health. During the morning assembly, two students from each grade stepped forward, each holding two glass jars – one filled with clear, clean water and the other with muddy, turbid water. The activity highlighted how clean water is essential for health, growth, and daily life, while contaminated water spreads illness and harms the environment.

SCHOOL LIFE

A decade spent with our loved ones, surrounded by the best of our friends and those fights whose reasons will always be, somehow turn into a memory we will forever cherish. A life which gave us all it could, along with an unexpected rollercoaster ride full of joy, solace and vibrance.

School years are always filled with amazing friends, enduring memories, and inside jokes. It all seemed like a nightmare back then, but in retrospect, everyone realised that their school life was the peak of their carelessness, happiness, and filled with great relish. Promises of being friends forever, spending remarkable birthdays together, and distributing friendship bands to classmates are among my most cherished and dearest memories to date.

Sharing delectable lunches, pranking friends, and having gleeful group study sessions are my absolute favourites. Those unforgettable surprises and exchanging Christmas gifts were delightful and highly organised events. Hanging out with friends, doing graceful activities together and having the time of our lives, all happened in a place I will forever be grateful for and hold dear.

According to me, school life is not something that can be defined but can only be experienced and always treasured. It was not only the studies, not only the sports, but the entire school days which have given me immense pleasure and obviously the friends that have stood beside me.

So I hope the school years that have passed and are yet to come will surely be the years I will always remember and adore forever...

MONEY SAVING

Money saving means keeping some money aside instead of spending it again and again without any reason. It means using money only for important things that we really need. We should spend money on our needs, not only on our wants.

If we waste our hard-earned money on fun and entertainment, we may not have money left when we truly need it. Saving money helps us in difficult times.

Another benefit of saving money is that if we start saving early through options like a Systematic Investment Plan (SIP) or mutual funds, our money can grow and become more in the future. We should also make smart investments and spend money carefully. If we start saving today, we can have a safe and secure future tomorrow.

EUROPE'S GREEN ENERGY TIPPING POINT

For the first time ever, countries in the European Union generated more electricity from clean energy than from fossil fuels last year, marking a major milestone in the fight against climate change. Experts say this “tipping point” shows progress toward a greener future and inspires other nations to expand renewable power like wind and solar. This achievement came after years of investment in sustainable energy technology and is seen as a hopeful sign that the world can reduce greenhouse gas emissions while growing its economies.
